THE 1970 HATTER

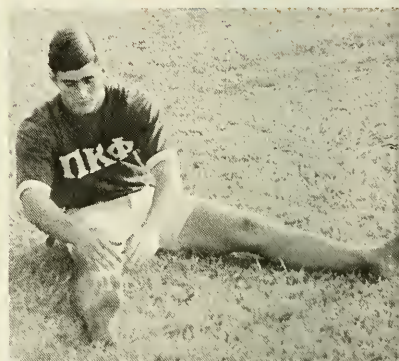

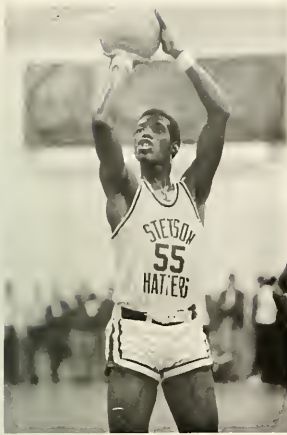

ONE IS

welcomed to Stetson every day he is here. He plans for her, works for her, pays for her. He is often rewarded; sometimes not. Yet she continues to be important; a place to sing and play. Stetson is a unique idea; a collection of inadequacies, chuck holes and bad food which equals the most intense, happiest, saddest, most important time of one's life. Welcome, then, to Stetson as we found her and were able to picture her. Live, again, through all of these things.

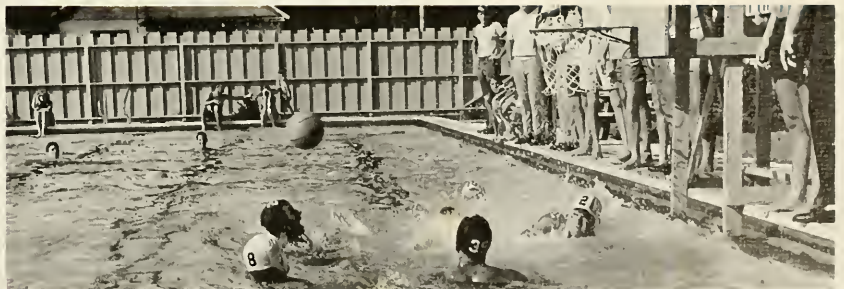

ONE BLOCK

behind Conrad Hall, across the street from the Men's Dormitories, there are four playgrounds. Many men learn many things there. Some learn pride in Stetson. Some have Greek letters to defend. But they all learn pain and the color of life on these playgrounds; as do all those who so faithfully watch. The women play, too. They play almost as hard. One laughs and cheers and argues and, perhaps, cries as he learns that it is not really play at all.

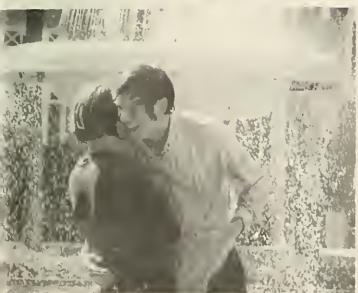

ONE TIME

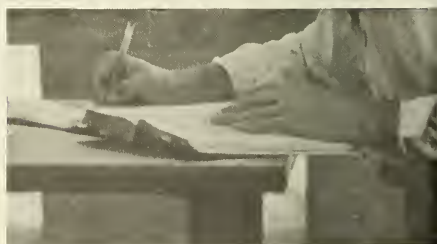

is especially suited to being with someone; to finding many types of love. Stetson offers a time when two people may see together and paint things brighter colors. Jerseys, pins, lavaliers, rings, promises and agreements tie people together in baffling, repeating arrangements.

Phones are always busy, back doors are always crowded at curfew. Hearts and minds are pushed together for many reasons and in many ways. One learns, however, as he goes. The reasons become harder to find. They become more important. Here and everywhere, one finds another or goes on looking.

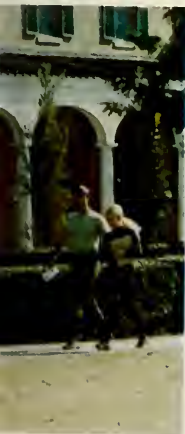

ONE REASON

for coming to Stetson is to gain a degree; to join in a "commitment to academic excellence." It is like a fingerprint; each person studies in a different way and in a different place and with a different attitude. But mostly, they study for different reasons. Mother's mad. Gotta get in grad school. Gotta go active. Gotta prove something to myself. Gotta learn. Gotta do something with myself; with my world.

ONE FOOT

before the other; time after time, day after day. There are simply places here at Stetson which one must walk every day. One walks with the same people carrying the same books, his stride mirroring his last test grade, his bank balance or the situation at home. The post office, class, the Commons—they all become old at the same time they are becoming surprisingly new. They become new for every person at Stetson as they undoubtedly will for all the others who pretend to tire of the same steps.

ONE ALWAYS

sees them. Just as everywhere, they are marketed in every conceivable package. They are all sizes, all temperaments. They sometimes "would love to go out." Just as often they "have to study." Some never have time to study, some order pizza in the dorm every Saturday night. And people laugh about "the Stetson Woman." Is there one? Does she wear short skirts? What is she? What do they want her to be? How many keys should she have? Should we ask her mother? What will happen to her? What would happen to the men if she weren't here? Keep guessing and wondering about her. Look closely. You may even see her walking across campus with a cigarette. Stetson women don't walk across campus with a cigarette.

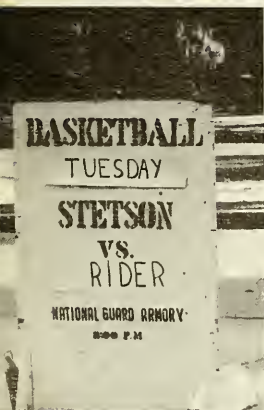

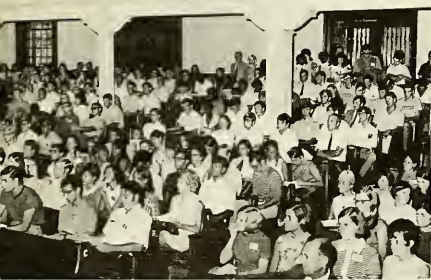

WE ARE

one; each of us needs something or someone. We may laugh about it. But the need is there and it makes us all one. A human necessity forces us to transcend bounds made by money, class, greek letters and attitudes. It is forcing us to transcend bounds made by color. And Stetson is a good place to watch it happen; to watch people get together. Maybe we have problems; maybe we don't. Stetson, however, is an old lady helping us as best she can.

The staff was: editor, Ralph Cline; assistant editor, Jeanne Gwynn; managing editor, Ric Crosby; layout editor, Amy French; photo editor, Bill Starr; Greek editor and spiritual advisor, Jeff Aste; organizations editor, Pat Stultz and nice person to have around, Bitsy Prosser. Print, 18, 12, and 8 point Trade Gothic Extended bold and regular. Paper stock, Satinweave. Professional photography by Tommy Taylor, DeLand. Business manager of the 1970 HATTER was Terry Mullen.

THE PEOPLE

THE ADMINISTRATION

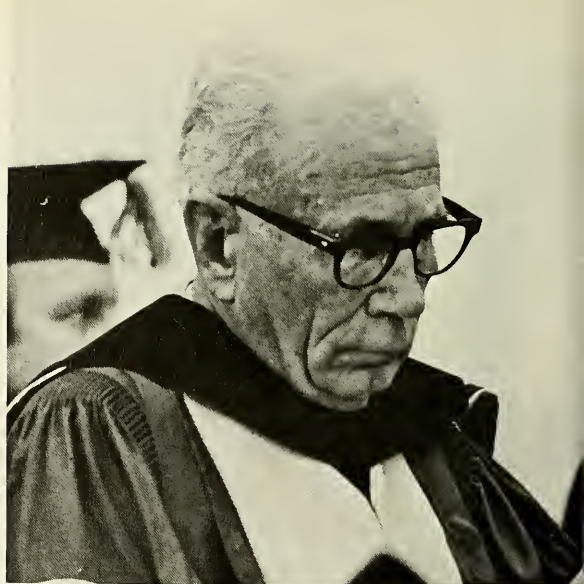

SELECTED

as President of Stetson University on April 24, 1970. Dr. John Edward Johns became the sixth man to hold the post. He succeeded the late Dr. Paul F. Geren. Dr. Johns served on the Stetson faculty for 22 years prior to his selection by the board of trustees. Dr. Johns was born in Ozark, Alabama and his family moved to Florida in 1922. He was educated at DeSoto County High School. He received his A.B. degree in history from Furman University in 1947. There he was president of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, member of Omicron Delta Kappa, business manager of his college yearbook, vice president of the student body and chosen best all-around student in his class by the Furman faculty. Dr. Johns received his M.A. and his Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. In his service career, Dr. Johns received the Distinguished Flying Cross and a Purple Heart. In 1947, Dr. Johns married the former Martha Mauney. They have three sons: John E., Jr., Steven M. and Marcus M. (See page 286 for installation pictures.)

ALL OF

J. Ollie Edmunds' college preparatory work was at the YMCA night school, Jacksonville, Florida.

While completing his college work at Stetson, he entered law practice in DeLand. At 27 he was appointed Judge of Duval County. He was narrowly defeated in a race for the United States Senate. In 1948, Dr.

Edmunds became the fourth President of Stetson University and the first graduate of any Florida college to return to his alma mater as President. Dr.

Edmunds retired the Presidency in September of 1967 and was invested as Chancellor in November of 1967.

AT THE

helm of the University is the Board of Trustees, a self-elected, self-perpetuating organization.

The Board of Trustees has the responsibility of selecting Presidents of the University, deciding policy, interpreting intentions and reviewing almost every aspect of campus life. Dr. Earl Edington is chairman of the Stetson University Board of Trustees.

FIRST

she was director of religious activities. Then she became an assistant professor of religion. That job was followed by her present position as Dean of Women. Miss Etter Turner received her A. B. and her M. A. from Stetson University.

HAVING

been a Hatter for four years, Dean of Men, George Borders is no stranger to Stetson life. Mr. Borders was born in Louisburg, Kentucky in 1939 and attended Duncan U. Fletcher High School in Jacksonville Beach, Florida. He graduated from Stetson with a B.A. in English. After his graduation, Mr. Borders went to the Marines where he earned the rank of Captain. In 1965 he earned his M.A. degree in education from East Carolina University and quickly became Dean of Men at Orlando Junior College. He came to Stetson in 1966 as assistant Dean of Men and was named Dean in March, 1969. Mr. Borders is married to the former Sybil Folsom and has two daughters: Kimberly, 7 and Julie, 5.

SPRING

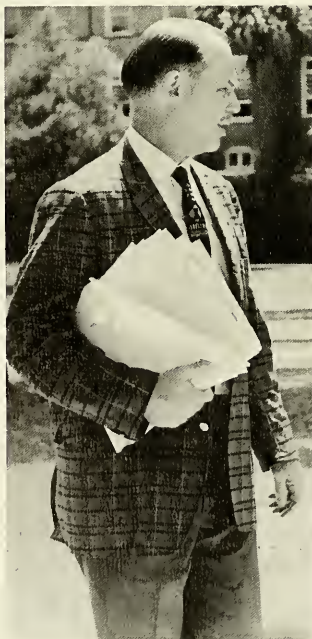

semester, 1968, saw two new deans named at Stetson. The appointments were approved by the Board of Trustees on the morning of January 26, 1968.

Dean of Humanities is Dr. Eliot

D. Allen (see pages 302 and 303), professor of English. Dr. Allen earned his B. A. in 1940 at Wesleyan University, his A. M. in 1941 at Harvard and an M. A. and Ph. D. at Princeton shortly thereafter.

Dean of Sciences is Dr. Robert S. Chauvin, professor of geology and geography. Dr. Chauvin holds his B. S. from New York State University College, an M. Ed. from the University of Houston, an M. A. from Columbia University and an Ed. D., also from Columbia.

DEAN

of the Stetson School of Business Administration is Mr. Edward C. Furlong. Dean Furlong received his education at West Virginia University, Potomac State College and Stetson University. He received his B. S. in business administration in 1938 and his A. B. and M. A. in economics in 1940. Mr. Furlong served as the business manager of the University from 1957 to 1963. Mr. Paul T. Langston is Dean of the School of Music. He received his B.A. from the University of Florida and his Doctorate in sacred music at Union Theological Seminary. Mr. Langston also studied at the American conservatory in Fontainebleau, France.

ALL STUDENTS ATTENDING CLASSES IN DAVIS HALL ARE EXPECTED TO BE PROPERLY DRESSED, ALL MEN ARE EXPECTED TO WEAR SHIRTS AND TROUSERS (NO SHORTS). ALL STUDENTS MUST WEAR SHOES.

EDWARD C. FURLONG
DEAN

AFTER

serving Florida's oldest college of law for eleven years,

Richard T. Dillon was named Dean of the college by the University's Board of Trustees. Dillon replaced Dean Harold Sebring who retired. Dean Dillon was born and educated in Tampa, Florida. He is a graduate of Hillsborough High School and was valedictorian of his class at the University of Tampa in 1953. This earned him two scholarships to Stetson college of law.

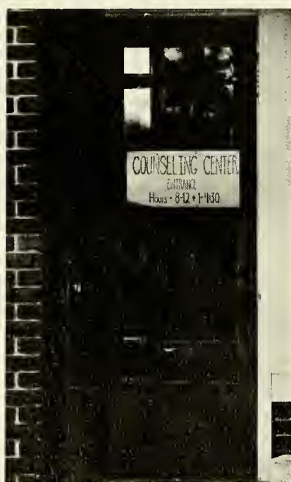

NEWLY

named to the post of Business Manager of the University, H. Graves Edmundson served the past year as Stetson's Comptroller. Born in Atlanta, Mr. Edmundson received his B. S. and M. B. A. from Stetson, the latter with the 1970 commencement. Miss Barbara Rowe is the University Registrar. Miss Rowe has been at Stetson University since 1939. She received her B. A. from Hillsdale College in Michigan and her M. A. from Stetson.

HAVING

received his B. S. from Stetson, Mr. Fred York returned to Stetson as Director of Public Relations, a job vital to Stetson's competition in the academic world. Fred did an outstanding job this year but, alas, next year he will be working for a different employer—the United States Army. Director of Counseling Services for Stetson is Dr. George W. Hood. Dr. Hood is also a professor of education. He received his B. A. from Baker University in Kansas, his M. B. A. and his Ph. D. from the University of Chicago. Dr. Hood has been at Stetson since 1950 in 1958, Miss Judy Ausley returned to her Alma Mater this year to serve as Director of News Services. Her job is to notify the world of Stetson's activities and accomplishments. Judy is a native of Florida and considers herself a DeLandite. Also working to keep Stetson in touch with the world is Mr. Ted Banks, Director of International Studies. Mr. Banks is from Greenwood, South Carolina. He received his A. B. from Emory in 1949 and his M. S. from Georgia Tech in 1955. Mr. Banks has been at Stetson since 1968 and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

A HATTER

THE FACULTY

and cents are the usual topics of discussion in the Stetson School of Business Administration. Students are taught how to earn it, how to spend it, how to save it, how to manage it and almost everything except how to get along without it. Dr. W. H. Anderson is a specialist in finance and accounting. Dr. James Brown teaches about investments. Mr. Harry Edwards teaches about real estate while he is the Placement Director for Stetson. Lt. Col. Kenneth L. Jackson is a professor of quantitative analysis and statistics. Mrs. Mary P. Jones teaches about finance. Mr. Ray G. Jones, Jr. is also a professor of finance. Mr. Joseph Master is an accounting professor. Mr. David W. Nylen teaches management and economics. Mr. Daniel O'Keefe is an accounting professor. Mr. Dallas M. Patterson also teaches accounting and management.

WITH
the dedication of the new Theodore Presser Hall, Stetson's Music School faculty has one of the finest buildings in which to teach in the southeast United States. Those faculty members pictured are: Mrs. Lenior Almand, professor of piano; Miss Frances J. Buxton, a specialist in violin; Mr. Richard M. Feasel, a specialist in theory and conducting; Mr. Robert Fort, a professor of church music; Mr. Harold M. (Prof) Giffin, a professor of voice and director of the University choirs; Mr. Roger Cushman, a specialist in piano; and Mr. William W. Martin, a specialist in violin.

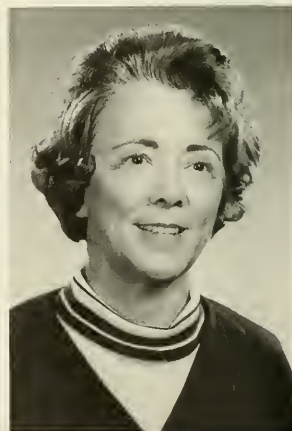

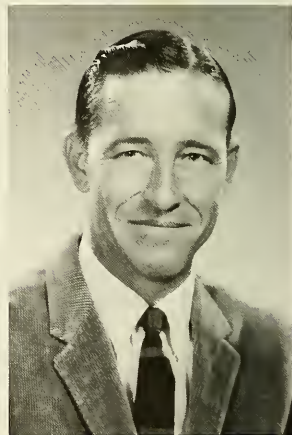

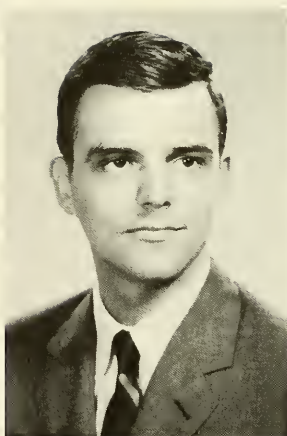

LIBERAL

is a strange word. Which arts are the Liberal Arts? At any rate, a division is made at Stetson and the faculty of the liberal arts are: Dr. Joseph V. Adams, professor of psychology specializing in clinical psychology; Dr. Gerald Anderson, professor of Spanish; Staff Sergeant Robert Ariail of the ROTC department; Dr. Rollin Armour of the religion department; Mrs. Ruth Arnold of the education department; Dr. Emmett Ashcraft, professor of mathematics and astronomy; Dr. T. Wayne Bailey, chairman of the political science department and professor specializing in international relations.

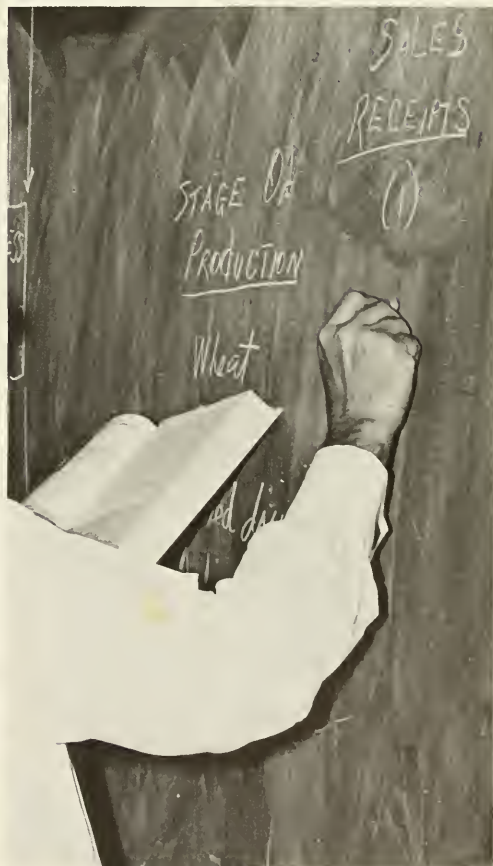

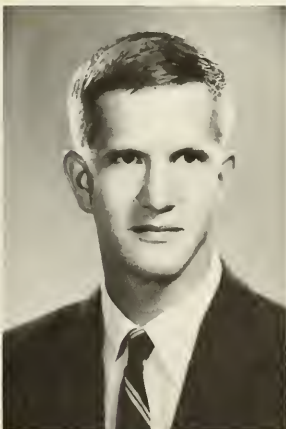

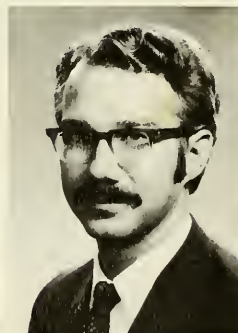

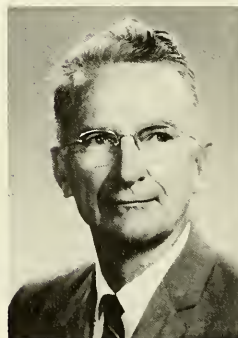

Mr. Ronald Baugh, professor of speech and coach of the debate team; Dr. T. W. Beiler, chairman of the chemistry department and a specialist in organic chemistry; Mr. Leon F. Braxton, professor of German and director of Stetson's AMFC year-abroad program; Dr. Concha Breton of the Spanish department; Dr. Fred E. Clark, professor of biology and a specialist in parasitology; Mrs. Elizabeth Clay, professor of elementary education.

Dr. Ethel Colbrunn, professor of English with specialties in Renaissance and Victorian literature; Dr. Gerald Critoph, professor of American Studies with special interest in urban life, leadership and social change; Mr. William Wayne Dickson, professor of English specializing in contemporary literature; Lt. Col. Joyce Downing of the ROTC department whose branch is Armor; Dr. Kenneth G. Everett of the chemistry department; Mr. David E. Fields of the mathematics department.

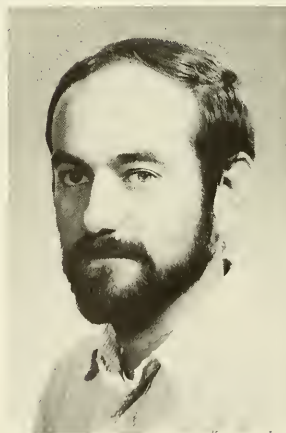

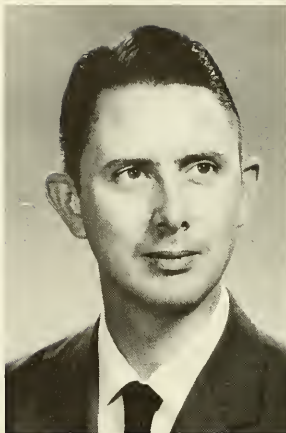

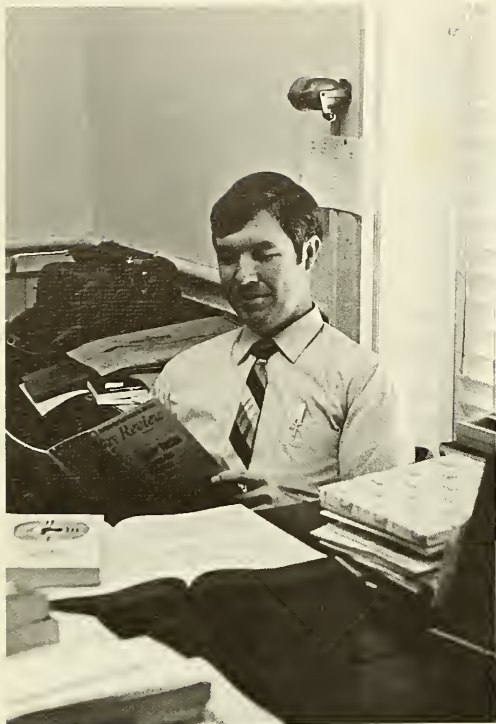

Miss Dorothy Fuller, professor of biology specializing in non-flowering plants; Dr. Byron H. Gibson, chairman of the English department with a special interest in Shakespeare and linguistics; Dr. Bryan Gillespie, professor of English with the same specialty area; Miss Sandra Gleason, professor of economics with a special interest in anthropology; Dr. Keith Hansen, professor of biology whose specialty is cold-blooded vertebrates; Mr. Bill Hickman of the religion department whose field is missionary work.

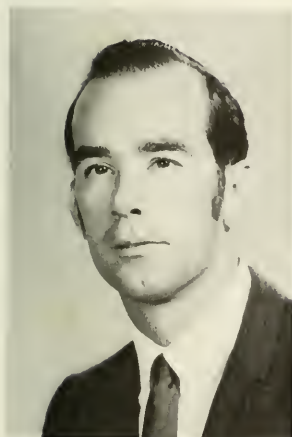

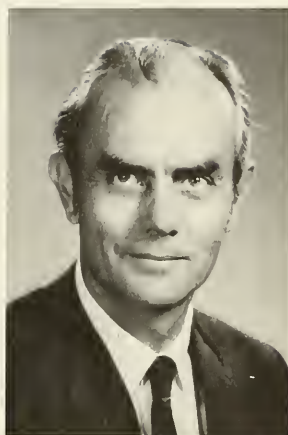

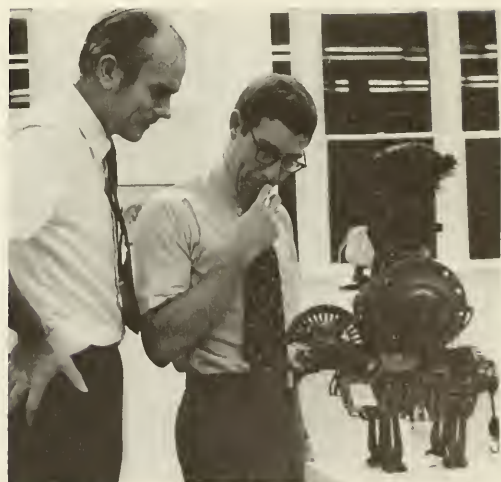

Dr. John L. Hodges, chairman of the foreign languages department and professor of German; 1st Sergeant Joseph Holbert of the ROTC department; Dr. George L. Jenkins, chairman of the physics department and an expert in nuclear physics; Dr. E. Earl Joiner, professor of religion whose field is Christian ethics; Mr. Anthony T. Jusick, physics professor with a special interest in the field of astrophysics; Miss Marian Jupp, professor of French; Miss Ethel Kinnum, professor of French.

Dr. William Laboch of the mathematics department; Dr. Richard E. Langford, professor of English with special interests in American literature and semantics who is also one of the founders of Everett/Edwards Press; Dr. Robert Loftin, professor of philosophy and logic; Dr. Marc Lovelace of the history department whose interests are the Near-East and archaeology; Dr. Gilbert Lycan, professor of history with a special interest in American History; Major Ted A. McDonald of the ROTC department whose branch is artillery.

Major Graham McKinnon of the ROTC department whose branch is artillery; Miss Elizabeth Magarian, professor of algebra; Dr. Gary L. Maris, professor of political science with specialties in the fields of international law and political theory; Mr. Fred Messersmith, chairman of the art department and noted artist; Mr. Lewis Myers of the religion department whose special field is the philosophy of religion; Mr. Gary Noffke, professor of art.

Dr. John Outtersen of the education department; Dr. Elmer Prichard, the senior member of the Stetson faculty, chairman of the biology department with a special interest in botany; Dr. Morris T. Reagan, professor of chemistry specializing in organic chemistry; Dr. John Scaif, professor of anthropology;

Dr. Harold J. Schultz, specialist in African and British history; Mr. Edward E. Settgaest, co-director of the AMFC year-abroad program and professor of Spanish; Mrs. Ella Mae Shearon of the education department specializing in psychology.

Mr. Robert Sherer of the American studies department; Dr. Ruth Smith, professor of education with special interests in elementary education and reading; Dr. T. E. Smotherman, professor of education with special interests in elementary education and science and mathematics; Dr. Ray Sowers of the education department, a specialist in contemporary problems in Florida education; Mr. Fletcher D. Srygley, a specialist in solid state physics; Mr. Charles R. Stephen, professor of economic geography and conservation; Dr. William E. Taylor, professor of English with special interests in poetry, drama and creative writing.

Dr. Elizabeth Teigland, professor of education with a special interest in reading; Mr. Henry Thwing, professor of derivative algebra; Dr. O. LaFayette Walker, chairman of the religion department and a specialist in Biblical studies; Mr. James Ward, teacher of swimming and coach of the Hatter baseball team; Dr. Margaret W. Wood, director of the Stetson intern program of the education department; Mr. James Wright of the drama department and many, many others who could not find time to have their pictures taken.

NOT A very trusting lot, the librarians are at least, very hard working. Mr. Dudley Yates is the head librarian, but he is assisted by Mrs.

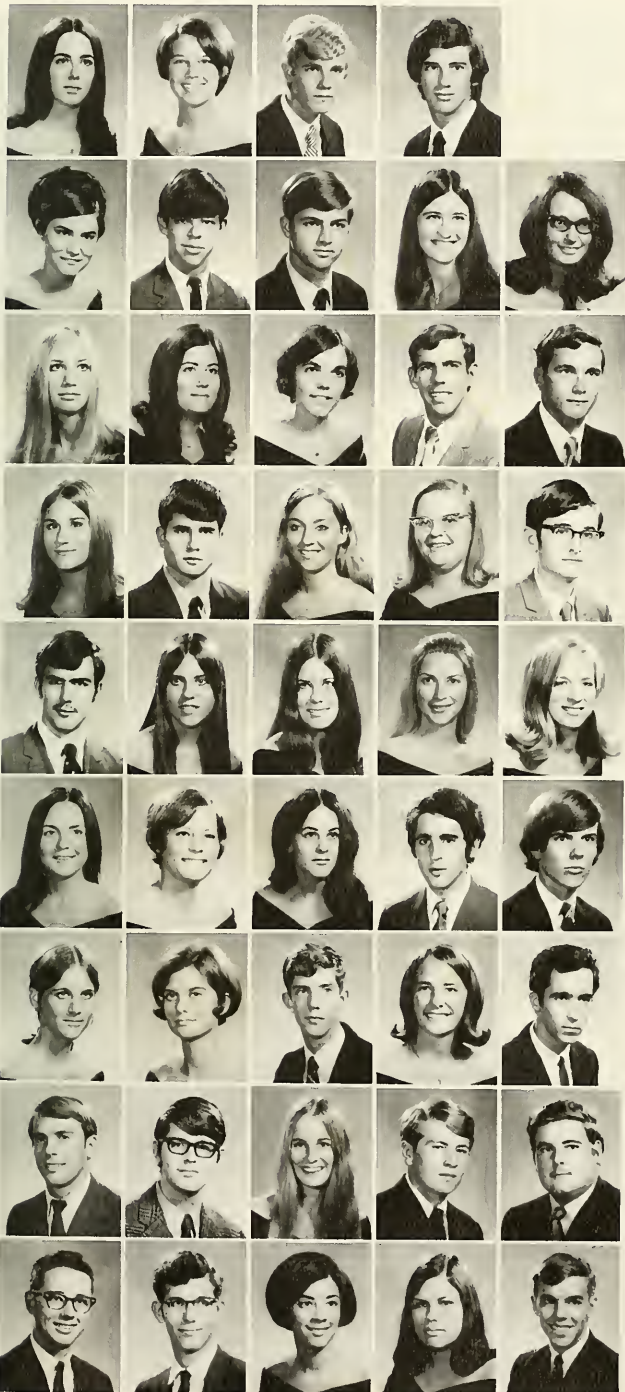

Ellen Peek, Mrs. Eleanor Hurst, Miss Mary G. Lewis and countless students who do not seem to like the library at all. Second only to the Hat Rack in social significance, the Library serves as a clearing-house for campus activities and romances. It also serves as an excellent site for slumber and for reading the newspaper. There is even a small, radical student minority who would attempt to use the library for study and break an age old Stetson tradition.

THE ORGANIZATIONS

RELIGIOUS

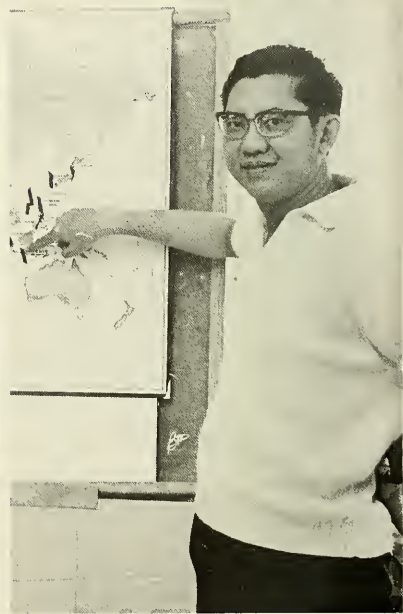

STETSON'S

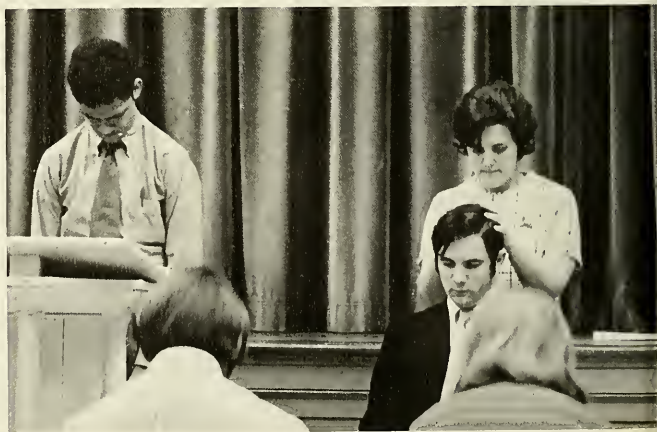

Ministerial Association is an organization for students wishing to enter church-related vocations. The Religious Life Council is comprised of all the religious denominations interested and represented by students on campus. The sponsor is Mr. Jack Mabry, and the members of the council are the president and representative from each religious organization. The special focus of Religious Emphasis Week is provided by this group as are most of the promotions of religious life on campus throughout the year.

VESPER

services every Tuesday and Thursday night immediately bring to mind Stetson's Baptist Student Union, the BSU. The BSU is sponsored by Mr. Jack Mabry, the director of religious activities for Stetson. Some of the BSU's most important activities were the pre-school retreat at the Central Baptist Church Camp, the international students' banquet in September, the state convention in November, and the sponsoring of Reverend Bill Self as a speaker at Stetson. The BSU's home is Allen Hall, named for the fourth president of the University. The president of the BSU is Jonda Salyers.

MARY

Baker Eddy, in 1866, was healed of severe injuries which she received from an accident. The healing occurred as the result of her reading of a certain passage in the Bible. She understood the healing, she said, but determined to understand the science behind it. From this landmark springs the Christian Science Students Organization. The organization meets every month and annually has a speaker from Boston, the home of the Christian Science movement. Pictured are: Mrs. Don Page, councillor; Gail Miller, Eve Brown, Laurel Goetz and Joan Simmons.

MADE up of interested Presbyterian students, the Westminster Fellowship provides many activities during the year. They host many dinners and hold an annual car wash for the benefit of their adopted child. Westminster holds two yearly retreats. The fall retreat features discussion by members of all campus faiths of possible means of fostering religious growth in the Stetson community. The spring retreat is open to high school seniors of the Presbyterian church. President is Harland Merriam. The other officers are: Barry Brassard, vice president; Steve Rawls, treasurer; Dorothy Minor, secretary; Trey Brooks, Jr., enlistments chairman and Barbara Barr and Kathy Kraeger, social chairmen.

CAMPUS

CHOSEN

by the Stetson Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the members of Green Circle must be rising sophomores. The group was conceived in order to show recognition to those sophomore men who have conspicuously contributed to Stetson University and its community. Recognized in 1970 were: Chuck McKeebey, David Wilt, Geoff Mack, Chris Park, Shon Saxon, Bill Bruce, Max Ziontz, George Hanlon, Greg Padgett, John Bailey and Jim Orr.

THOSE

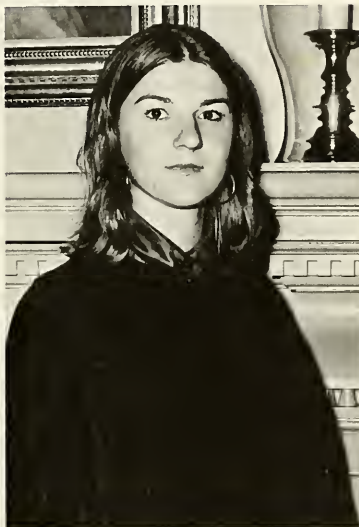

whose job it is to preserve order on campus are sometimes not extremely popular. They do, however, do an outstanding job of carrying out their responsibilities and keeping Stetson running smoothly. Two such people are Eliot Perny, Director of Traffic and Dave Broom, Director of the Campus Security Guard. The Traffic Department has paved three parking lots this year plus depositing a substantial amount of money in the University's general operating fund. The Campus Security Guard is possibly the only one of its kind in the nation. Completely run and staffed by students, the Guard has been much more successful than any security method tried.

PROUDLY

wearing the small, black mortar-board pin, one may see the recipients of the highest honor available to Stetson women. This honor is to be tapped into Mortar Board, the national leadership fraternity for women. This year's membership was: Elizabeth Gearhart Farr, Janet Crossley, Pat Stultz, Jan Barton Buchanan, Lindy Jackson, Pat Dullard, Janet McCullough (all pictured opposite page), Suzanne Clarke O'Keefe, Linda Ross, Suzy Smotherman, Evelyn Solheim and Debbie Thompson.

OMICRON

Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary for college men, was founded December 3, 1914 at Washington and Lee by fifteen student and faculty leaders upon the idea that leadership of exceptional quality and versatility in college should be recognized.

The membership is made up of both faculty members and students. The members for 1970 were: Dick Mahaffey, president; George Borders; Steve Shoemaker; Bill Armour; John Swann; Elliot Perny (pictures this page); Dr. Glenn Wilkes; Dr. T. Wayne Bailey; Lyle Wadsworth; Jim Davis; Bill Hathaway, Bob Lenna and Ralph Cline (pictures opposite page).

SELECTED

by the members of Mortar Board,

The Tassel consists of rising junior women. The Tassel is Stetson's local leadership honorary for women. Members are chosen in the spring and must have a 1.6 scholastic average to be considered for membership. Also required are varied leadership activities. A woman remains a member of the Tassel for her Stetson career.

A JOINT

committee of students, faculty and administration, the Publications Board has as its functions the reviewing of candidates for editorial offices and the insuring of satisfactory progress on the part of all the campus publications. Its members include the editors and business managers of the Reporter and the Hatter, a chairman selected by Sigma Pi Kappa, the editors of South, head of the public relations department, dean of women and a faculty advisor. The Student Affairs Committee is constituted to deal with non-academic areas of student life. Its members are: dean of women (chairman), dean of men, registrar, assistant dean of women, the faculty advisor to the student government, the director of religious activities, SG president, SG vice president, AWS president, Men's Judiciary Council president, Reporter editor, Publications Board chairman, SUB president, presidents of the Panhellenic council and IFC, a chairman of the SAC disciplinary committee and a faculty representative from the faculty senate.

SCABBARD

and Blade is a national military honorary society for outstanding cadets in the ROTC program. The society sponsors assorted charity activities as well as social campus functions, and provides leadership training and experience to the selected cadets.

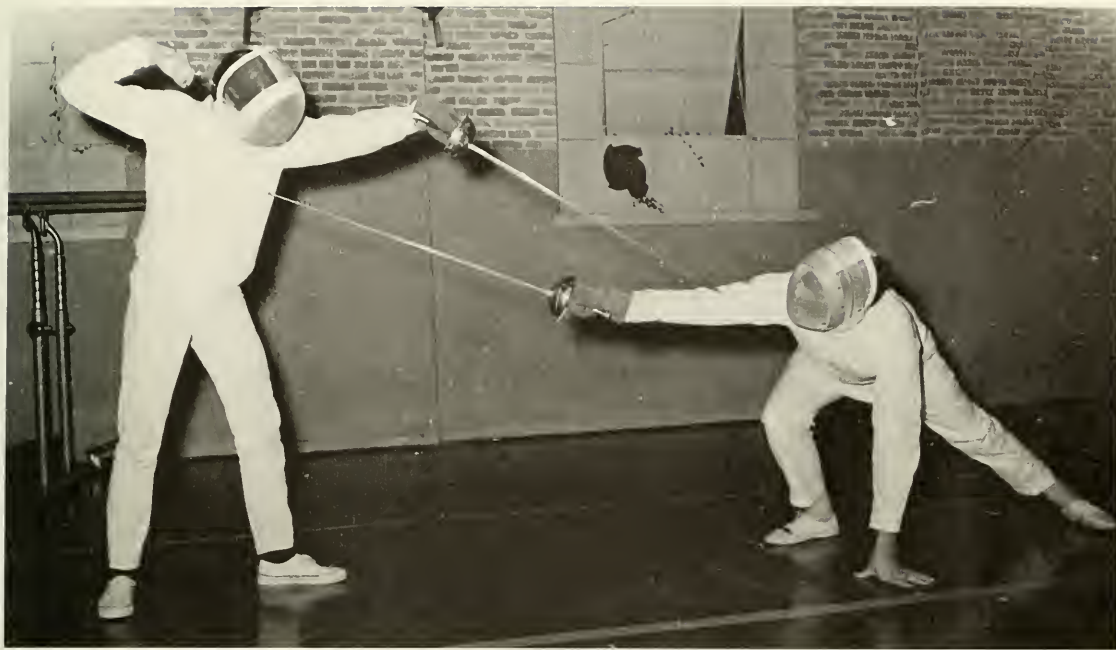

NATIONAL

Honor society of the basic level ROTC cadets is Pershing Rifles. They are the only drill unit which represents Stetson in area parades and provides leadership training and experience to the selected cadets.

MISS

Dorothy Fuller is the faculty advisor to Beta Beta Beta, the national biology honorary organization. Its membership is limited to biology majors who maintain a B-average in biology.

FOILS

and epees, white suits and masks, thrusts and parries — all these new terms come with a brand new sport. The Stetson Fencers in their first year at Stetson compiled an enviable record. Captain Steve Rawls won the state under 19 men's foil championship and the divisional under 19 men's epee championship. Cathy Bursock represented the women in the winner's circle by taking the state title in the under 19 women's foil competition. Although the fencers have not been able to wrest a team status from the University, they have successfully competed against the University of Florida, the Florida State University and Florida Presbyterian. Dr. Fritz Frauchter and Dr. C. Carter Colwell are the faculty sponsors of the Stetson Fencers and Jim Flint is the president.

SIGMA

Tau Delta is the national English honorary fraternity.

Members must have at least twelve hours of upper-division English with a B-average in order to qualify. Dr.

Ann Morris is faculty advisor. Sigma Pi Kappa is the local journalism fraternity. Its sole qualification is outstanding work on Stetson's publications.

THE DEBATE

Squad has upheld Stetson's honor well this year, especially with an outstanding victory over Harvard April 2, led by Bob Bugg and Chobbie Ebbets. The Squad participates in intercollegiate debate and forensics both locally and in tournaments. Coached by Mr. Ronald Baugh, the Stetson Debate team has brought much notice to the campus.

TAPPING

for Scroll and Key is from the top five percent of the juniors and seniors holding at least a 2.5 average. It is Stetson's honorary fraternity for academic excellence. Phi Beta is the national professional fraternity for women in the field of music. The members serve as hostesses for all musical activities. To be considered for membership, one must have a B average.

FORMED

as a means to give greater expression to Stetson's black students, the Afro-American Society claims as its purpose "to contribute to the University community and to the DeLand community at large with a specific orientation to the black experience." The society strives to emphasize the cultural history of blacks in America. The executive council of the SAAS consists of: Frank Scruggs, Greg Price, Teri Singleary and Al Harris. Their representative to Student Affairs is Greg Padgett.

WHO'S

Who in American Colleges and Universities, in the past two academic years, has accepted 46 of Stetson's nominations. Those accepted who were in attendance at Stetson for 1969-70 were: Bill Armour, Janet Crossley, Pat Dullard, Jane Eckert, Bill Hathaway, Betsy Craig, Lindy Jackson, Cathy Joel, Bob Lenna, Dee Lewis, Janet McCullough, Dick Mahaffey, Eliot Perny, Steve Shoemaker, Joan Simmons, John Swann, Jeff Aste, Beth Barnes, Ralph Cline, Sue Coffey, Joan Damon, Bob Daniels, Jim Davis, Vern DeSear, Bob Gawley, Judie Hill, Marva Lewis, Bob Montgomery, Suzanne O'Keefe, Bill Perry, Linda Ross, Jonda Salyers, Evelyn Solheim, Pat Stultz and Lyle Wadsworth.

THE GREEKS

say they are discriminating. The answer always reiterates the individual's right to choose his associates as he sees fit. They sing and they play football. They drink and they sing and they visit dormitories late at night. They maraud fraternity houses with crippling toilet paper and steal and paint each other's emblems. But they are here and the Greeks, like most people here, try to contribute more than they detract. They discriminate; but usually they aid. They, also, make Stetson Stetson. There are 14 Greek organizations on campus and they are listed here according to the Greek alphabet.

THE PUBLICATIONS

ONE

usually unnoticed person always has to edit the Compass. A large part of the summer is taken to compile all the information and pictures needed by entering students. Piles of phone numbers and club descriptions, pictures and rulers all mesh, somehow, into probably the most useful publication on campus. The editor for the 1970 Compass is Miss Jan Holland, who also serves as secretary of the student publications committee.

south

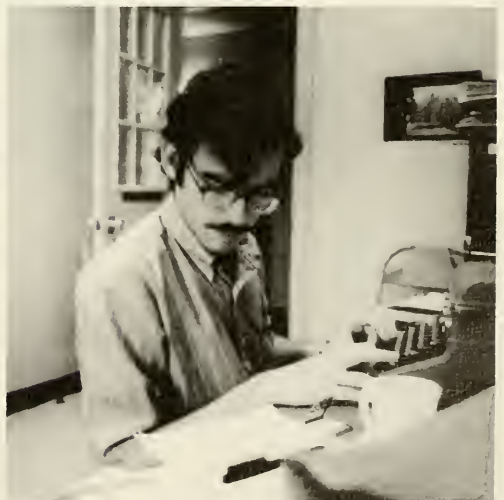

is the literary magazine and review of Stetson University. Its purpose is to provide a means where creative works of fiction, poetry and literary criticisms can be displayed for the public's scrutiny. Photographs and drawings are also used in the belief that true artistic endeavors are not necessarily written. Although not all of the material used for south is written by members of the Stetson community, the emphasis is upon local work. The members of the south staff are: John Dupree, editor; Tagore Somers, Robert Berry, Dan Casale, Deborah Turner, Susan Gould and Wayne Dreggors on the editorial staff. Dr. William E. Taylor is the advisor.

EVERY

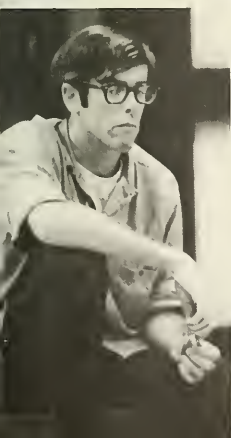

Friday one may see, scattered in tied bundles in every important corner of the campus, what seem to be thousands and thousands of copies of Florida's oldest college newspaper, the Stetson Reporter. The bundles are eagerly torn into for reasons varying from the literary merit to the Burger Chef coupons. This, however, is its purpose. The editor of the 1969-1970 Reporter was Bob Lenna. His two assistant editors were Brian O'Keefe and John Dupree. The Reporter sports editor was G. A. Mitcheson. Staff Writers were: Greg Price, sports; Vern DeSear, coed of the week; Janet Crossley and Linda Messersmith, Greek Gab; Pam Lee; David Jorden; Randy Klein, and Sam Bearman. Business manager of the Reporter was Walt Ketcham. Throughout the 27 issues of the year, editor Lenna stated his purpose as "to tell it like it is and at the same time to follow the advice of William Cowper who said 'Differing judgments serve but to declare that the truth lies somewhere—if we knew but where!' ". (Please see pictures on pages 168-169.)

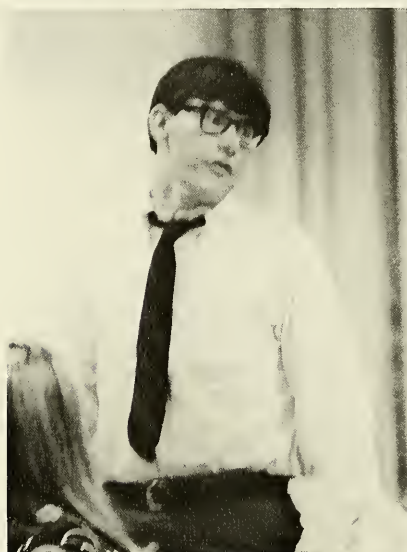

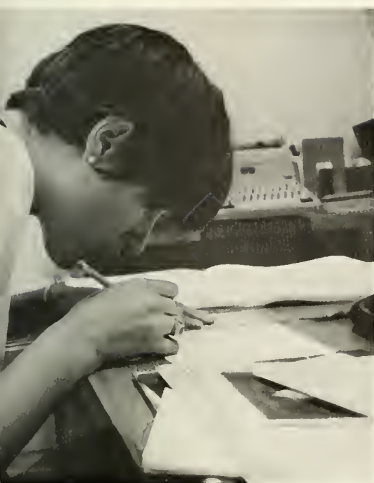

SCOTCH

tape has left white squares all over the death-green walls and the typewriter only works part of the time. In this room where faded blue curtains hang cowardly in the corners unaware that they are unable to stretch completely across the windows, a group of people works on painting what lies outside the windows. They are sick of one pica and Trade Gothic Extended Bold and Mat Binders. They never really tired of what was outside the dirty windows, though. Jeanne was assistant editor. She didn't want to be. Ric was managing editor. Amy was layout editor and in the office all the time. Bill was photo editor and hard to find but uniquely dependable. Dr. Morris was our faculty advisor. She kept us out of trouble with the publications board. Sage took a lot of pictures and taught school. Sue inspired Bill. Nat did a large number of advertisements that Terry sold. Pat was organizations editor. Vern got all the pretty girls and Nasty Jeff got all the hard, unglorious work. But, at least, we all learned something—to look at today in terms of what it might be tomorrow. Sometimes. A sense of history.

THE LEADERSHIP

stands for "associated women students," the organization of all Stetson women. It has two main areas of concern: interest and judicial. The purpose of the interest board is to satisfy and broaden women's interests through planned social and intellectual activities. The judicial council is designed to encourage individual respect and integrity as women take increased responsibility in governing themselves. The Men's Council serves as a link between the University Administration and the men students and tries to develop a sense of responsibility and high standards of conduct in each Stetson man as a corollary to its governmental functions.

IN CHARGE

of an active and successful Student Government Association, Bill Hathaway has put in thousands of hard hours. As President of the SGA, Bill holds the most important executive office available to a student. His Vice President, Bill Armour, is the presiding officer of the senate. Wanda Pasnicky serves as Treasurer and Susan Jones is the Secretary.

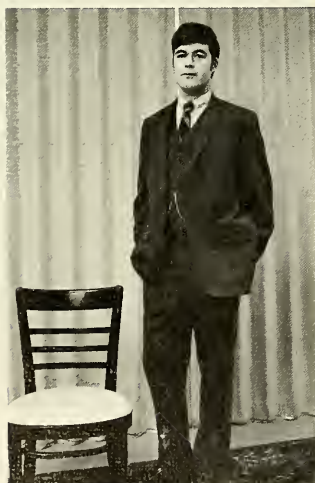

LOYAL

but often unnoticed servants of Stetson are the appointed Co-chairmen on major Student Government committees. These students work diligently to plan and supervise the major events of the school year. Co-chairmen of this year's Homecoming (see page 290 for additional information) were Judd Chapman and Judie Hill. Planning 1969's Green Feather week (see page 252) were Dick Mahaffey and Sally Trask. In charge of Parents' Weekend were Vern DeSear and Joan Damon (see page 294).

THE S.G.

senators are: Mark Shuttleworth, president of the junior class and chairman of the judicial and rules committee; George Retter, sophomore class senator, chairman of the business relations committee; Janet Crossley, business school senator, chairwoman of the organization and finance committee; Vince Dix, junior class senator and chairman of the labor and student services committee; Ric Crosby, sophomore senator, chairman of the elections and appointments committee; John Swann, president of the senior class; Joan Simmons, president of the liberal arts school.

Chobee Ebbets and Jim Davis, liberal arts senators; Jessie Burns, liberal arts senator; Judie Hill, liberal arts senator; Pam Thomas, music school senator; Kenan Fishburne, president of the Sophomore class.

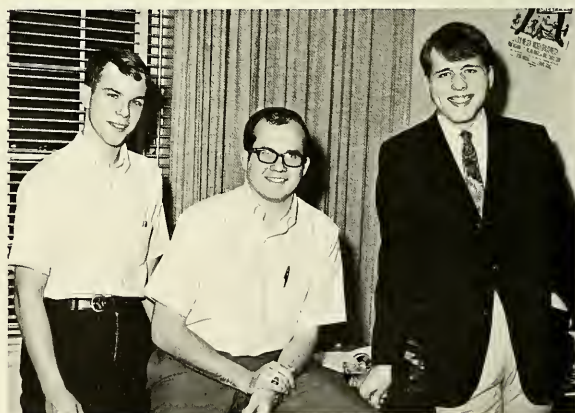

Gary Smith, junior class senator; Mark Zimmerman, liberal arts school senator; Ron Bostic, music school senator; Terry Mullen, business school senator; Warren Dixon, music school senator.

IN GREEN

and white outfits, sporting name tags, the Stetson Hostesses may be seen often working hard to sell Stetson to prospective students and campus visitors. The work is hard and often unrewarding. The smiles are sometimes hard to produce, but they always are. Membership is completely voluntary and the only reward is the satisfaction of working to improve the University. The hostess bureau is directed by the Stetson Union Board's hospitality committee and works closely with the Office of Admissions. They are made up of 20 of Stetson's most attractive young women. The chairman of the group is Miss Marnie Feasel.

HOUSED

in the Carlton Student Union, the Stetson Union Board is made up of those students interested in bettering the Stetson community. The SUB plans activities of interest to all Stetson students. The Union Board operates under the Student Affairs Committee, as does the Student Government, and is a parallel organization to the Student Government. SUB officers are: Richard Brown, president; Elizabeth Mock, vice president; Marva Lewis, secretary; Bruce Rose, treasurer; Robby Connor, Cellar Door Chairman; Bill Calvin, Films Committee Chairman; Marnie Feasel, Hostess Bureau Chairman; Tom Koszoru, Recreation Committee Chairman. Other members include Dean Etter Turner; Bill Armour, SG vice president; Mr. Jack Mabry, Faculty advisor is Dr. Gary Maris.

THE SPORTS

VARSITY

MOST

of the time, they cheer by themselves. A Cheerleader is an animal that does funny tricks—somersaults and the like—while the crowd watches and occasionally snickers. But what kind of lethargy would we all slip into if it were not for the cheerleaders. Any place has to have at least one group of people who are not the least bit ashamed to be enthusiastic. Captain Rochelle Waters McTureous, Lynn Kitching, Zondra Tyre, Kathy Giffin, Susie Erard-Coupe, Paula Snell, Sherry Laughlin, Nancy Baur and Debbie Ervin tirelessly cheer, make posters, travel and make Stetson an exciting place to be.

COKES

were fifteen cents apiece for as long as they lasted. They never lasted very long, however, as a Stetson Soccer game is a very hot, sultry affair. When it is not hot and sultry, it is raining.

Virtually unobserved, the Stetson Hatters fought through 13 soccer games to end a disappointing 4-7-2 season. Those who watched were loyal, but few. The soccer team has always had to serve their school with very little support. Coach Borders started the season with almost all of his last year's stars returning.

An exceptional season was predicted but things just did not fall into place. There were stars, however.

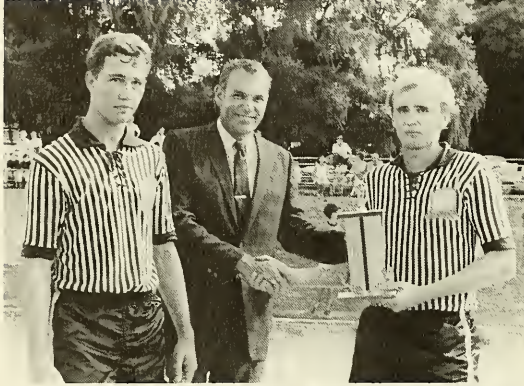

Tim Olagbemiro was the highest scorer in the Florida Inter-Collegiate Soccer Conference. Along with Tim, John Davis and Jeff Aste were named to the FISC All-Conference Team. Others who played were: Ted Davis, Frits Lawaetz, Wes Nettleton, John Wethington, Tad Williams, Bobby Rosenberger, David Hull, Jim Flint, Dan Fremont, Dave Bestor, Vernon Frank, Ibrahim Gheiadi, Bob Baldwin, Bill Perry, Harland Merriam, Jorge Uquillas, Link Powars, Kurt Hertle, Steve Baum, Bill Hinchliff, Rob DePue, Charles Cousins, Manuel Menendez, John Horn, Pete Staley, Steve Carlson, Dave Brandt, Paul Wymbbs, William Ayala, Alex Mellon, and ChanChai Intaraprawat.

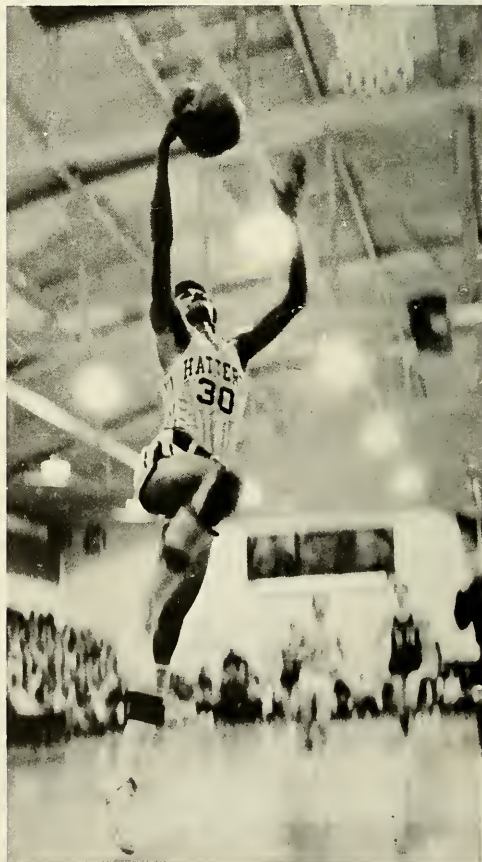

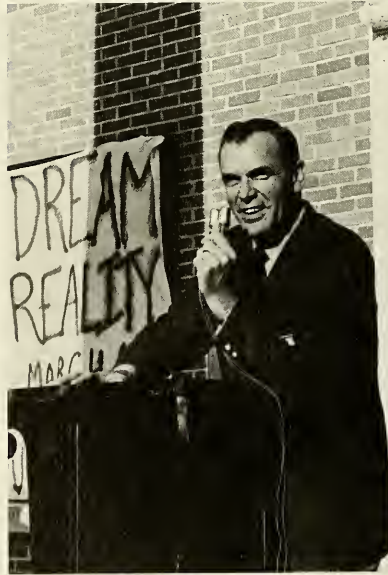

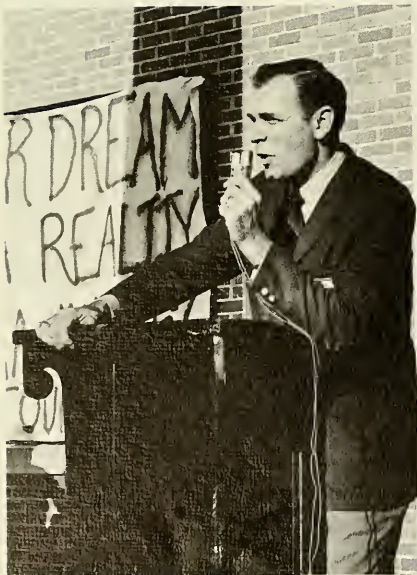

BUFFALO

State killed the Hat's chances at an NCAA College Division Championship and they only did it by one point. And that point came after the final buzzer! Nevertheless, it was Stetson's best basketball season. Our dream was indeed realized as the voice of G. A. Micheson told us that the season would end in Evansville, Indiana rather than DeLand. High points of the season were the victories over 14th ranked Louisville and Georgia Southern, the game that gave Stetson her first NCAA Divisional Title. The Tars, the Spartans and Buffalo State, of course, provided the low points. Doctor Glenn Wilkes ended the great season by sending All-American Ernie Killum to the National Association of Basketball Coaches' All-Star Game where he played beside Charlie Scott and Dan Issell. Killum started every Hatter game with Derrell Boone, Junior Gale, Bob Mack, and Ron Beal. Ken Showers served as a high-jumping clutch man. Along with them, Steve Sterling, Jim Orr, Steve Holland, Jessie Grove, Ken Ware and John Loveland made Hatter people a lot happier than they had ever been before.

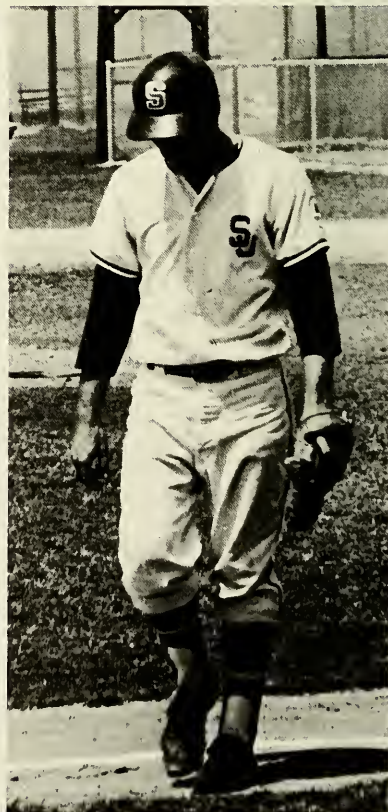

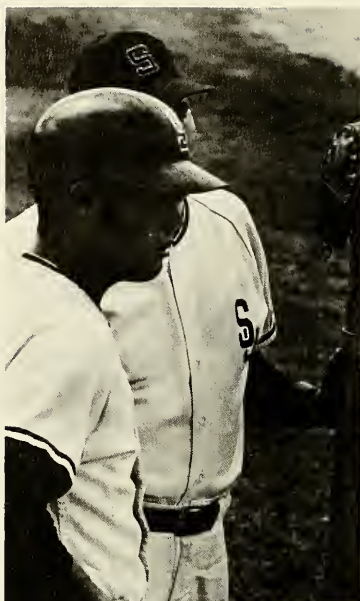

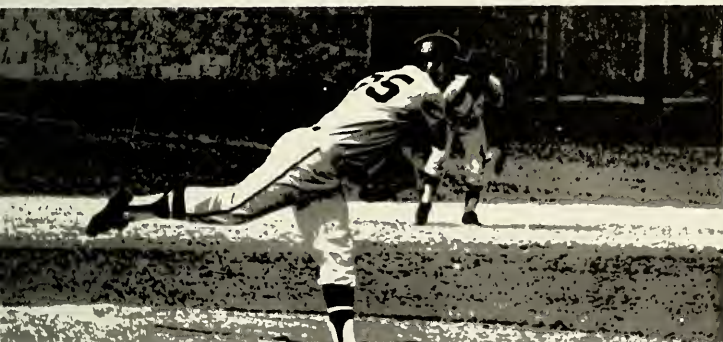

NORFOLK,

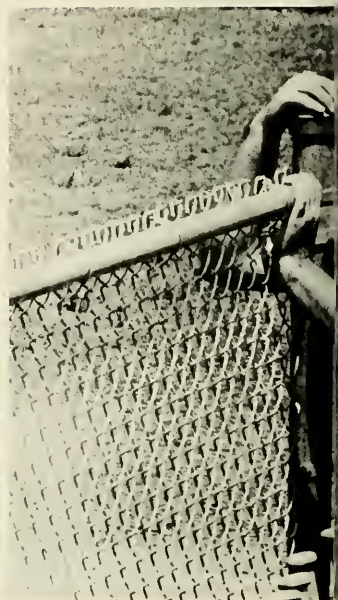

Virginia will be the site of the end of the Stetson Hatters' baseball season. Extremely successful under Coach Jim Ward, the Hatters finished the regular season with 34 wins and only 12 losses. The Hatters threw and hit well enough to receive the at-large bid to the NCAA college division tournament from the Atlantic Coast Conference. Bill Rhoden led the team in batting average while Mike Fulford led the Hats in RBI's with an astounding 46. The lowest earned run average for the pitchers belonged to Jim Orr with 1.29. John Fischetti pitched the most winning games with 8.

VIRTUALLY

ignored by the student body, tennis and golf are two of the most interesting spectator sports at Stetson. Coach Ray Hussey was in charge of the 1969-'70 tennis team. The Stetson golf team was coached by Bob Weickle and was very successful in Florida meets.

THE INTRAMURALS

NEITHER

as easy nor as gentle as one might think, Stetson's intramural sports draw large and spirited crowds. Perhaps the most popular intramural sport is Intramural Football. Each fraternity sponsors a team and the Independent Men's Organization also enters one. Each team plays every other team twice in a truly exciting season. The air is often rather cold but the tension is hot as the fans wish victories for their favorites. Intramural football has all the characteristics of regular football, but Stetson adds her smallness and rivalry to increase the competition. One gets hoarse as he screams invitations he could not possibly live up to and wishes that people would get hurt. The end of the game, however, brings a cheer and a return to humanity. The fierce rivalry melts first into muffled "Nice games" and then into everyday life. This year the Pikes took the title from the Sigma Nus in a two-part, gripping, almost dark playoff game.

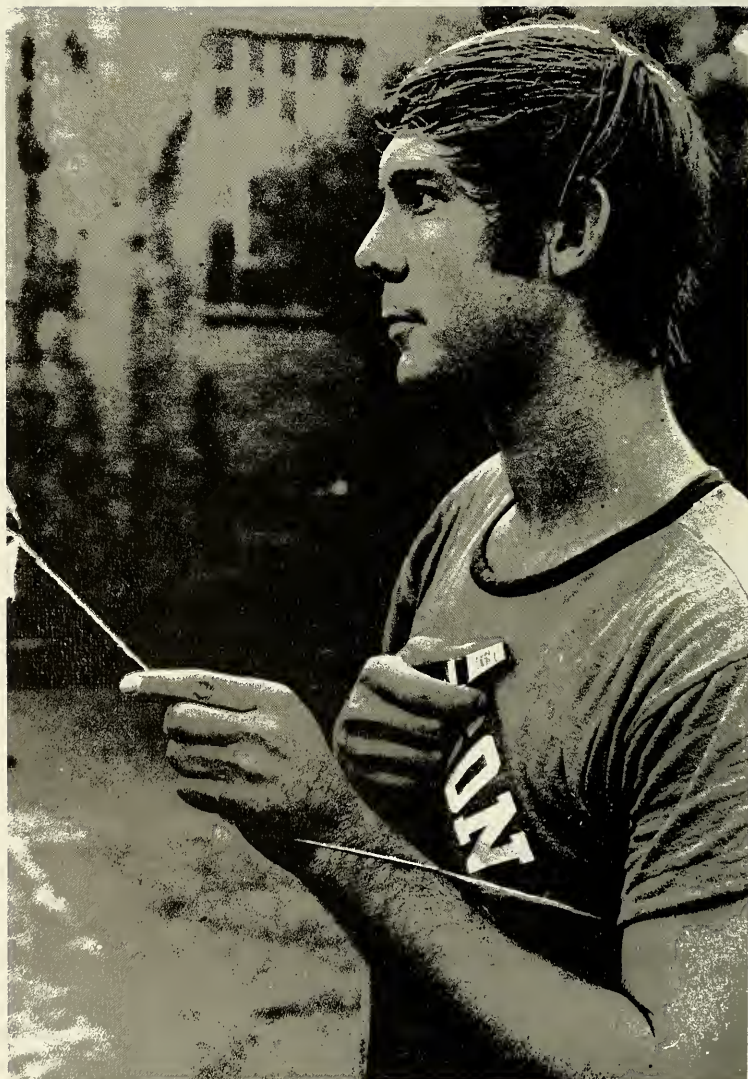

TWICE

and over the net. Straight down if one is able to arrange it. The goal of the game is to write "Voigt" on their faces while protecting one's own. Just as the rest of Stetson's recreation sports, Intramural Volleyball is not as easy as it would seem. There is not even a small hint of grass and the nets are usually sagging.

The sun is in one's eyes or he is in night-like shade. But people enjoy it. This year, the Sig Eps took the trophy in a see-saw double round-robin tournament.

SLIME

grows on the windows that have not been opened in many years. The roof leaks even when it isn't raining and the heater, when it works, emits echoing screams and moans around Hulley Gym. The old gym, in the winter, hosts two games per night, four nights per week. The phenomena featured are collectively called Intramural Basketball. One crowd files out as the other files in and as the refs change shirts to play in the next game. And the heater, sometimes, screams and the scoreboard, sometimes, works and the sweat of the players, usually, rolls and forwards, often, slip on wet places on the floor as someone manages to win the hazardous, unique game of Stetson intramural basketball. This year, the Sigma Nus, on their blistering road to athletic recovery, took the basketball title. But they paid for it.

ERRORS

in the outfield cause one game to severely interfere with another as the outfielders often rub shoulders. Stetson Intramural Softball is truly a unique sport. Where else could one see a pitcher pitching from a hole rather than a mound?

Where else could one see human backstops? At any rate, the action is fast and the crowds are enthusiastic. And, as the bases and the runners move around the diamond, a reasonable facsimile of that great American sport takes place at Stetson. This year the Lambda Chis took the title in a season that went right down figuring heavily in the decision for the President's Cup, the Minor Intramural Sports lack the appeal of the major ones. The minor sport pictured is Water Basketball. The winner of the former was Sigma Nu and the latter was Sigma Phi Epsilon. Other minor sports and their winners were: Horseshoes, Sigma Nu; Table Tennis, Lambda Chi Alpha; Cross Country, Pi Kappa Phi; Bowling, Delta Sigma Phi; Paddleball, Sigma Nu; Golf, Lambda Chi Alpha and Tennis, Sigma Phi Epsilon. Two intermediate sports were Swimming and Track, both won by Pi Kappa Phi.

USUALLY

THE BEAUTIES

she is called Dream Girl or Rose Queen or just Sweetheart, she means the same thing to the men who have chosen her. On these two pages are pictured the Sweethearts for the Stetson Fraternities.

MEN

who are members of fraternities vote on candidates sponsored by all the sororities to select the Greek Goddess.

This year, Miss Pat Dullard was crowned at the annual Greek sing. Pat is a 21 year-old senior from Ormond Beach. Her major is history and she enjoys knitting, reading, sewing, swimming, traveling and working with children.

WHAT

used to be Homecoming Hostess was made this year into the Homecoming Queen. Chosen by a student election was Miss Linda Ross, a 20 year-old junior from Winter Park. Linda's major is Russian and she likes art, cats, teaching, serving, reading and dancing. Each year the cadets in Stetson's ROTC brigade choose a Military Ball Queen. This year's Queen was Miss Kathy Littlehale, a 21 year-old sociology major from Weston, Massachusetts. Kathy's interests include horseback riding, swimming, sports and travel.

EACH year the Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity sponsors the Freshman Beauty Queen Contest. This year's winner was Miss Joan White, an 18 year-old freshman from Tallahassee. Joan likes to go for walks, read modern poetry and follow her horoscope. She is also interested in fashions and modeling. A panel of judges picks the annual Stetson Basketball Queen to reign as queen of the sport for the current season. Miss Joan Adams was this year's queen. Jo is an 18 year-old freshman also and is from Indianapolis. She enjoys bike rides and swimming. She has a thing about sunrises and her hobby is smiling.

BORN

in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, Miss Stetson for 1970-71 is Miss Dale Zinzow. Dale is a 20 year-old sophomore whose interests are swimming, bowling, sewing and water skiing. She is an elementary education major and a member of the Stetson Honors Program. Dale was a Regents Scholar and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

EVERY

year, a distinguished panel of judges chooses a young woman who they feel typifies the ideals set for a Stetson woman. Miss Stetson is chosen from a large group of candidates sponsored by many campus organizations. She is chosen on the basis of performance in an interview and poise and beauty shown the night of the contest. Miss Stetson for 1969-1970 was Miss Joan Damon, a twenty-one year-old history major from Summit, New Jersey, whose interests include talking with people, traveling, tennis, water sports, and sewing.

SHOWN

also on page 231 as Homecoming Queen, Miss Linda Ross was also chosen the 2nd Runner-up to the Miss Hatter title. Chosen by the judges as 1st Runner-up was Miss Anne Chorpeneing. Anne is a native of De-Land. At age 21, she is a junior majoring in marketing. Her enjoyment comes from doing things such as water-skiing, participating in the sport of archery, painting and singing.

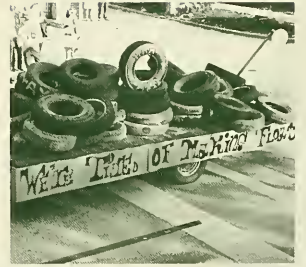

ANGEL

hair and other Christmas decorations set the stage for the combination SUB-HATTER staff Christmas Miss Hatter dance. Chosen was Miss Peggy Jordon from Atlanta, Georgia, a nineteen-year-old elementary education major. Her interests are sewing, Spanish, travel, teaching, cooking, tennis, and children. First runner-up was Miss Linda Ross, featured as Homecoming Queen on page 231.

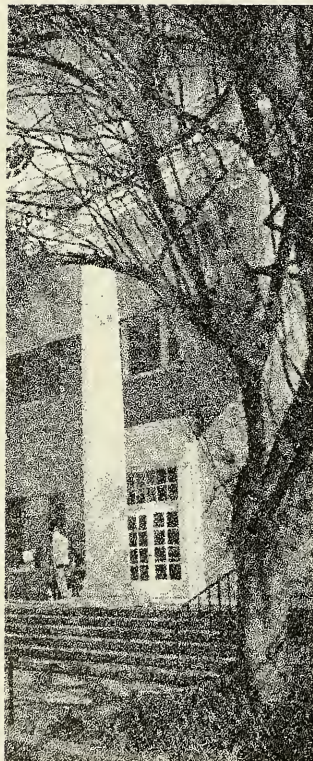

THE YEAR

THE FALL

SANDER

Vanocur was there. And if one were a Freshman, he was about the only person on Stetson's campus who looked anywhere near familiar. Orientation is about unfamiliar people, however. Evil people somehow plan things so that one does not have any free time at all. They find the number of people the auditorium will hold, double it and have an assembly. They wait until everyone is tired and sunburned, and plan a social. They spend hours planning rancid punch and make sure the air conditioning is not working. Then, when everyone is wearing his newest clothes, the dating market opens. "Where are you from?" "You came all the way to Stetson from there?" "What's your major?" "Man! Be sure not to get Dr. —!" "By the way . . . " Exemption tests, conferences with faculty advisors, missed scheduled events and the sanctity of the beach when everyone else is in Elizabeth Hall, new ROTC uniforms that must have fit someone at sometime, mispronunciations and the proverbial name tags ("Oh! Do you know . . . ?") all conspire to keep bags from being unpacked and rooms from being set straight. But, one has all year for that kind of thing!

ALWAYS

afraid that they will trip, yet unable to hold back their excitement, the women who have just pledged Sororities run from the dormitories to the Panhellenic Building which has been calmly watching young ladies run and scream for fifty years. But they forget that. They forget that this is but one of a series of pledgings. Sorority Rush is a time apart for them—there has never been another like it. There never will be. And, although it is their duty to look at the display with disdain, the Greek men know how they feel for, just the night before,

Fraternity Rush (pictures opposite page) ended with pledging ceremonies. The ceremonies were different—they like to say more sophisticated—but the feeling was the same. So now as everyone gathers on Saturday morning to see who everyone else pledged, the old Panhellenic Building watches a new group of people start life at Stetson in a particular way.

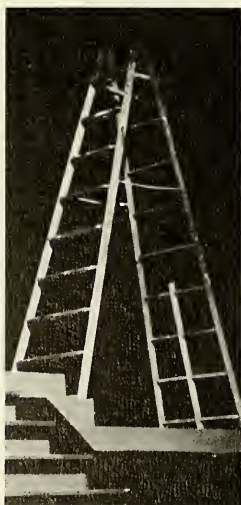

THE SEATS

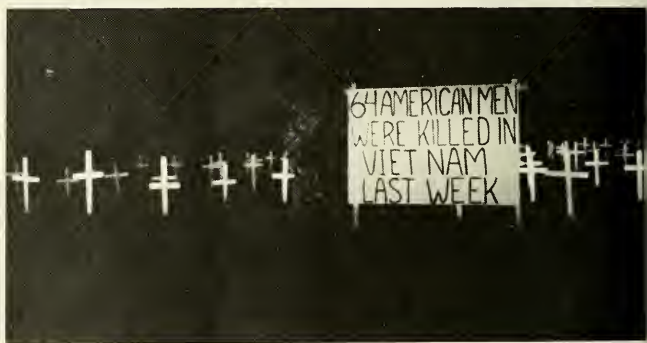

are as uncomfortable as they are old and one can seldom shake the feeling that the roof isn't completely dependable. But Stover Theatre usually takes on all the magic that is expected of a theatre on the night of a presentation. The early part of the year brought Laugh-In, an adaptation of a script from the TV show of the same name.

When they had finished, there was not much left of Ken and Barbie, Mrs. Sigmund Freud or Senator Muskie. Later came Deadwood Dick, a western melodrama featuring tattooed treasure maps, hisses and boos and lines that dripped from the stage. Deadwood was one of the most popular plays of the year.

Passion, Poison and Petrifaction followed with the story of an American cousin and a very sick stiff.

WORK FOR

Peace, October 15. That was what the blue circles with the white dove said. Someone made a lot of money off of those blue circles. At any rate, many people here did indeed work on October 15. A Congressman spoke, students wore black armbands, there were two films and there was, for a short time, some competition for the Army Recruiter on Peace Day at Stetson. The Student Peace Committee started the whole thing. The administration joined later. There was much to do to achieve the exhibition of different viewpoints; classes had to be called off, chapels had to be planned and disillusioned alumni had to be placated. Heatedly, prayerfully and musically, peace was discussed and admired. Then, as the day of moratorium ended, the war still screamed and the people who worked in the Hat Rack still displayed the American Flag.

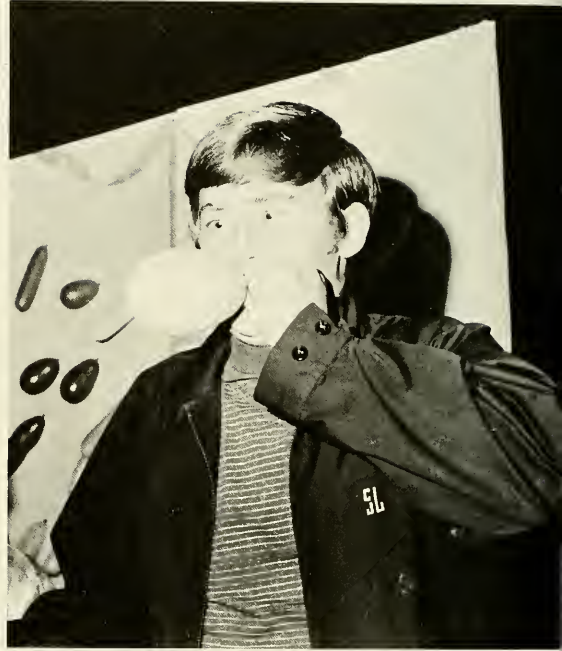

SOCIAL

probation and threats of non-participation by the Fraternities rang in 1969's Green Feather Carnival and the annual drive for the United Fund almost totally failed because of a panty raid. But, minds changed and the carnival site was cleaned up just in time for the fun. Odds are ten-to-one that there was not one funny joke told, not one public address system that worked — but people laughed and pretended to hear. And, most important of all, the people paid. Stetson became bigger than herself for one week of dorm collections and painful rehearsals. The Omega Phi's had their inevitable soul show, the Sig Ep's gave people colds, Joe Mano sold pizza, the Pershing Rifles rented bb guns and the Lambda Chi's, as they always do at Green Feather, reddened the faces of at least 75 % of the student body by exhibiting at least 75 % of theirs. Green Feather is always helpful, charitable and just a little hard to believe.

OFF AND

on, the Greeks at Stetson stage an event called Greek Week

This year was an on year and about 400 Stetson students who were members of Sororities and Fraternities took a week to play.

There was a dance, a sing, a Queen, a King and a day of games. Mature college students crammed Volkswagens, pushed Volkswagens, tugged ropes and raced tricycles. And most of them enjoyed it, even though it seemed necessary to scoff at the childish goings-on. There was also the seemingly eternal chariot race which necessitated endless searches for tiny girls.

Some young ladies were unfortunate enough to have their bodies painted. Some young men were fortunate enough to paint them. At any rate, it is a tradition. And, although it was cold, it was fun.

YELLOW

suits with black shirts and orange ties which came off at the first trickle of sweat danced and made love to microphones for three solid hours. The fabulous Tams review featuring the spectacular Drifters, as this type of phenomena is commonly called in the promotion world, came to Stetson via the SG and Stetson people went to watch. The evening followed the age old custom of nine tenths warm-up, one tenth show. The audience sat patiently and listened as the Tams Orchestra readied them. Then, after the long, hot, loud wait, the Tams came upon the stage. Then the audience stood up. They danced with the arms of their chairs. They obscured the view. They swarmed the stage. Then, following the revered custom of our age, the final tenth was cut to a twentieth by the off-duty policemen.

A PLAY

running the gamut of religious feelings, For Heaven's Sake was another excellent production of Stetson University's Stover Theatre. Unusual settings, songs, dialogue and choreography accented the up-to-date things the play had to say.

WAY

of the Sword and The Zen Substitute were the two comic one-act plays shown by Stover Theatre to demonstrate the style of the Japanese Kabuki theatre. The first was the hilarious tale of a young man's inordinate desire to emulate his father and become a famous Samurai. The Zen Substitute tells the entertaining story of Lord Uko's attempts to foil his domineering wife, Lady Tamanoi. These difficult and enjoyable plays further demonstrated the range of talent in Stover Theatre.

DESPAIR

mingles with cheer because, at Stetson, exams always come with Christmas. The weather is cold, but never with snow. One has to be a magician to find the time to buy any Christmas presents during study time. Yet there is something unkillable about Christmas, even in Florida. It takes strength to believe in Christmas here. Perhaps that is why it comes this way. Jesus and Santa Claus demand strength. Some Fraternities and Sororities usually go downtown and find underprivileged children and throw a party for them. Someone always has to dress up like Santa and hates it until he looks in the first kid's eyes. The big Christmas tree shines almost in desperation against the lights of the cars on the boulevard. Prof starts the choir and, although it seems horribly immature, everyone sings carols. The fingers of light from Chaudoin bravely listen. Then the Yule Log is lighted and no one worries about the soot mark it will leave on the concrete. The bell choir plays next. One wonders if anyone has ever really heard them. Still it seems good to listen to their silent music. Then someone tells you about Christmas if the public address system is charitable enough to be working. And the microphone crackles at every "s" and "p" and the pages of the Bible blow, being light, in the wind and the oldest and best story of them all marches, unstopped, through circumstances.

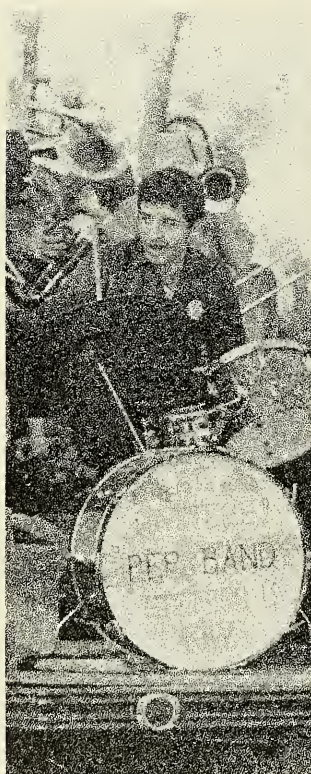

LONG

a member of Stetson's faculty, the sagacious oak which used to stand in front of the Carlton Union Building died and was mourned in February. The hoary tree stood long at Stetson's heart and, as countless students passed it each day, it told them something of experience. The oak sponsored romances and rest and complimented the sun as it blocked it from the circle. The tree surgeons said, however, that its cement heart had at last surrendered and that it had to be taken out of its misery. And it was; in February. And its job was taken by a pointed evergreen, still wet behind the ears, with not nearly so much experience, which began to die two months after it arrived.

THE WINTER

NOBEL

Prize winner, Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godot amazed and puzzled the audiences at Allen Hall. It was an unusual play to begin with; one of the few plays held in the round. Two hoboos and their troubles and their long wait for the never-arriving Godot held the Stetson audience silent for two hours. And Godot never came. We waited all that time with them and Godot never came. Should we have left? After all, he was due the next day!

ORANGE

City probably heard Big Brother and the Holding Company (pictures opposite page) the night Stetson had her first (albeit mini-) rock festival. Freaky, complicated, loud and new, the music screamed from the stage to hundreds of pairs of ears and then fell on the beach-blanketed grass of the Forest of Arden. Just as complicated and just as enjoyable was the Paul Winter concert (pictures this page) in the Elizabeth Hall auditorium. The instruments were more classical, but the sounds were just as haunting, just as new.

THE SPRING

PENS

quickly moved as reporters and students hungrily wrote down every word he said when Senator William Fulbright came to Stetson. People spoke of Doves and Hawks and WDBO for days before he got here. He was against Vietnamization; for pulling out. He would have to think about Judge Carswell before making a decision. "I have no doubt the man's a competent jurist, but . . ." It was sometimes difficult to know just what he was saying, but that is an old, respected political game in America. He spoke well, and as long as he was allowed. He had been here before. He liked it.

WHEN

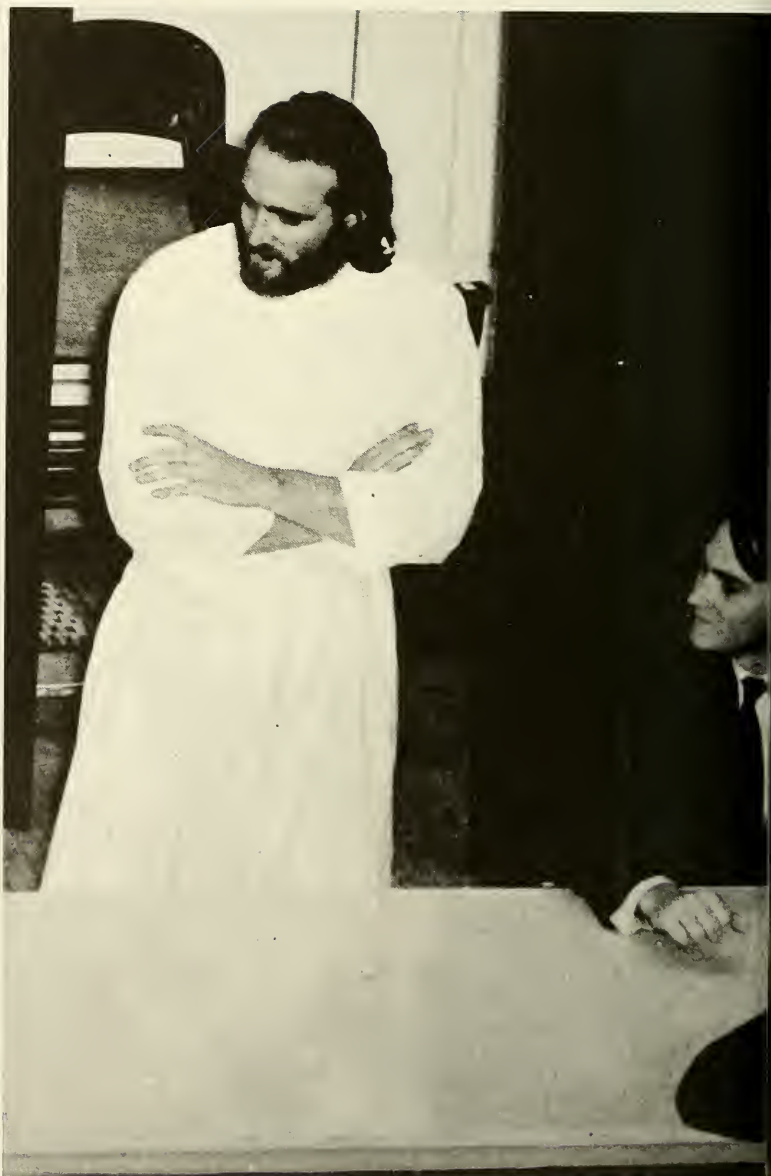

the Paul Revere 250 begins at midnight, the air for miles around Daytona takes on an excitement that is not duplicated the rest of the year. The little sports cars run most of the night and in the infield there is Miss Paul Revere and a whole lot of beer. The real excitement does not come until the next morning, however. Then begin the 24 hours of speed, the Daytona 500. Cale Yarborough set a new track record with his qualifying speed of just under 195 miles per hour. But approximately 100,000 people, many of them Stetson students, watched Cale develop engine trouble and hand the race to Pete Hamilton, driving a Petty Plymouth Superbird. Afterwards, there are a lot of term papers late and a lot of pain from the sun and the noise and the celebration. The campus is a somber, quiet place after 24 hours of Daytona.

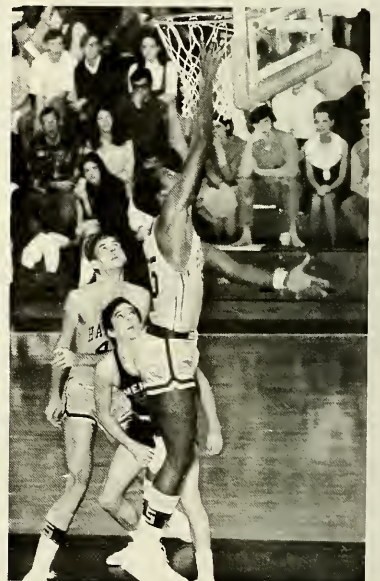

NO ONE

really seemed to know what "Starblazing" was, but someone had decided that Stetson was going to do it to the Seventies anyway. Homecoming, 1970 drew a larger number of alumni than any Homecoming had and saw the first annual Hatter Howl, a group of skits caricaturing contemporary life. The winning skit was by the junior class. Saturday morning featured a parade down Woodland Boulevard. The winning float was put together by Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Mu. Friday night was highlighted by a dance in Sanford featuring music by the Leaves of Grass from Georgia. Derrell Boone, Pi Kappa Phi and Linda Ross, Pi Beta Phi were selected King and Queen of Homecoming. The alumni banquet saw Ed Henderson replaced by Jack Inman as president of the alumni association. Possibly the high point of the weekend was Stetson's victory over rival Mercer in the Homecoming basketball game.

SINCE

the parents are the ones who pay all the bills and since without the bills there would be no Stetson, the University sees fit once a year to invite the hands that feed her for a weekend visit. The campus spruces up, the Commons food inexplicably improves, the professors have coffees and it all is called Parents' Weekend. This year's Weekend was one of the largest we have ever had and featured banquets, tours, the Follies (pictures page 279) and Stover Theatre's Celebration (pictures pages 280-281).

ANY SCHOOL

worth its salt has a variety show at least once a year. Any variety show has singers, dancers, a theme and an accordion player. The Parents' Week-end Follies, then, qualifies as a first-class variety show. It always has all these things: a girl who puts make-up on boys, boys who complain about make-up but who are always first in line to have it put on, a young man who does nothing but move things, a present for the director, flowers for the choreographer and a standing ovation. The Follies may be different from any other variety show. Then again, it may not be. The difference comes in an unobservable attitude. These are Stetson students trying hard to make their parents as proud of the old place as they are themselves. That is a difficult job. The Follies always seems to do it.

SOME shouted "Bravo!". Some shouted "Censored!". Some shouted nothing because they did not understand the play well enough to shout. Nevertheless, Stover Theatre welcomed the parents with Celebration. It was a strange play. It was expertly done and it was very well received. Most people really liked it. But it was a strange play!

EVERY

year a panel of judges chooses a Stetson man to become Mr. Stetson. They choose him on the basis of how completely they feel he equals the ideal of a Stetson man.

Our Mr. Stetson for 1969-70 was Dick Mahaffey. Dick was a psychology major and president of the Stetson circle of ODK. He served Stetson as a senator, a head resident and chairman of the student publications board.

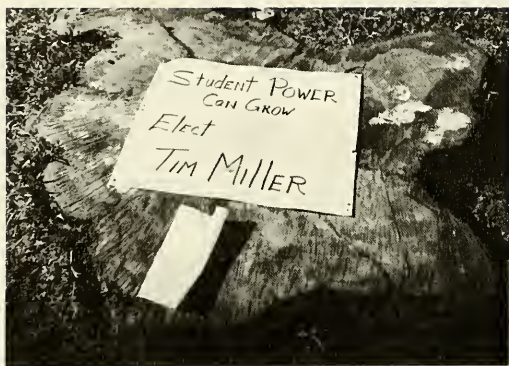

Mr. Stetson for 1970-71 is 21 year-old junior Lyle Wadsworth. Lyle is an honors program student majoring in chemistry. Lyle will also be a head resident and has served as president of Canterbury House. Lyle is a member of ODK and has been named a trustee for the new Episcopal college.

FIFTY

-cent cigars filled the ash trays for one afternoon when Florida's unique Governor Claude Roy Kirk visited Stetson. He came to confer with members of his College Student Advisory Board, headed by Ric Crosby. From Stetson the Governor flew to Lakeland and had a kidney stone removed. From there he flew to Manatee County and took over the public schools. From there he went to The Walter Cronkite Report, but only for 75 seconds.

SELF-

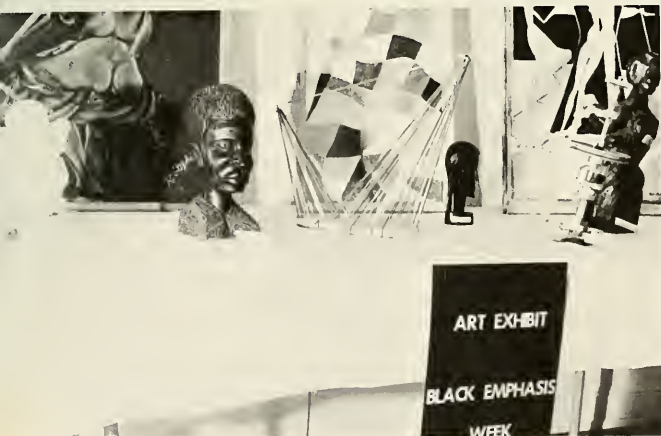

assertion is, many times, a necessary and beneficial thing. It is this self-assertion that insures a man's right to, at least in some respects, rule himself. Once a year, then, in order to continue Stetson Student Government, many people unabashedly, in large letters, proclaim their virtues to the student body. The Student Elections decide senators, committee members, editors and representatives-at-large — and they occur religiously every Spring. There are thousands of mimeographed drawings of Snoopy, thousands of mimeographed letters displaying faded copies of high school senior portraits and thousands of thefts from the Daytona Linen Company. Add these ingredients to desire and service, splash them in every bathroom and between every two trees on campus, and one will have a picture of how the people at Stetson go about the business of government.

LATE

in the afternoon of Friday, April 24, 1970, Dr. John E. Johns was named the sixth President of Stetson University by Dr. Edington, Chairman of the University Board of Trustees. Dr. Edington noted that Dr. Johns had been selected from a list of sixty possible candidates. The selection was made on the basis of the fulfillment of ten criteria. In his short acceptance speech, Johns said that he hoped to be able to maintain and improve Stetson's position as a place where Christian education can flourish. (For biographical information, please see page 23.)

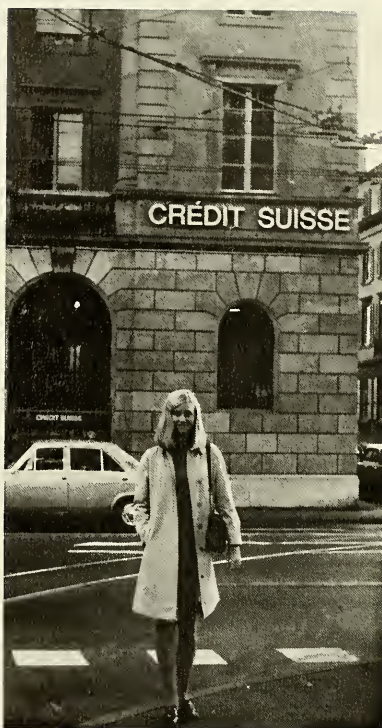

REVEREND

Hosea Williams spoke. There were panel discussions. There was a play and an art exhibit. There was soul music under the trees outside Hulley Gym. All this was in an attempt to create a little understanding, to acquaint the white with the black experience. Stetson's newly formed Afro-American Society worked very diligently on the project with the hope of improving things in our back yards. We will hope they succeeded. We will see soon. But, this was Black Emphasis Week at Stetson.

the reasons to go abroad is to expand one's experience.

One reason is to be able to say he has been. But it's the chance of a lifetime and nineteen Stetson students decided to take it. Freiburg, Germany is the temporary home of Anna Barber, Marva Dawkins, Marcia Ann Field, Deborah Ann Kleinhans, Karen Poling, Sharon Reid and Don Yates. James Carter and Rice Sumner are in Madrid. In the snow and mountains of Neuchatel, Switzerland are Carolee Anderson, Barbara Ann Bahl, Donald Baker, Gale Goodwin, Douglas Grier, Jeffery Messersmith, Virginia Rand, Josette Rochon, Lucia May Smith and Jacquelyn Taylor. Another reason to go abroad is to receive a completely different type of education; an education only given by travel.

DOGS

barking and trash being emptied and all conceivable sounds and smells of irreverence laced the warm air of the Forest of Arden during baccalaureate and graduation. The night before, President Johns had held a reception. Thursday morning, Dean Turner held a breakfast. Wednesday night, the Senior men held a solemn, tradition-filled service. And Sunday night people sat for hours and sweated and brushed that tassel out of their mouths. They walked, one-by-one, across that concrete, past all those wonderful wizards dressed in their most colorful and frightening magic robes, past the man who gave them something and remembered them if they happened to be someone important's son or daughter, to the tube rack and back to their seats. Then they sweated some more. The rest of that night, they were younger than they had ever been. That was their last regression.

ONE

who will let his students into his home and make them feel important there, Dean Eliot Allen is the recipient of the dedication of the 1970 HATTER. The people who have made this picture of Stetson University feel strongly that this man is the epitome of what we want our picture to be. Dean Allen dedicates himself to making people earn. He gives nothing and gives everything. We will miss a man who will let students into his life and make them feel important there.

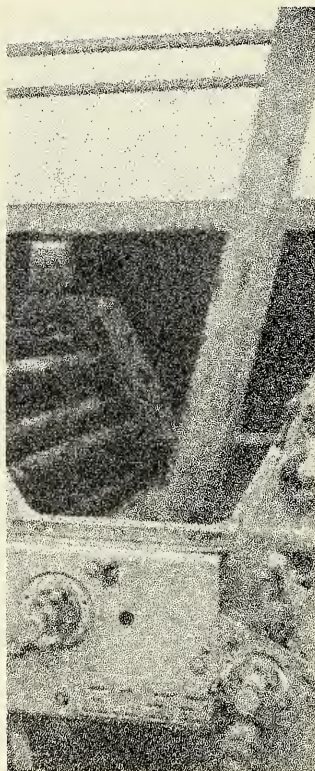

A YEAR

for pulling up the old and putting in the new. First Viet Nam and then Cambodia and pollution. A lot of people started, it seemed, to try to do something who had never tried to do things like that before. Four died in birth. People prayed for peace and hoped for the sun and wondered about their futures. But people still smiled and resorted, at times, back to the concrete things in life. They made love and music. And gave and aspired. It was a year for pulling up the old and putting in the new. But, hasn't every year been that?

For That Someone Special

WE CARE

Dirty air comes from cars and trash burning and industry and airplanes and on and on and on.

Well, Florida Power Corporation doesn't like it either. That's why we've spent more than $1,500,000 on air pollution control equipment in the last five years just as a start.

Because we want to breathe too.

STETSON UNIVERSITY ROTC

ONE TIME

my friends and I decided to make a yearbook. Many times we thought the decision unwise. A few times we thought it wise. Many people helped. Many people will help after I write this. Armed with a love for the school, too little talent, too little money and too little time, a lot of papers and things, a broken typewriter, a Three Ring Night record and too much enthusiasm, we set about to produce a picture of a truly baffling and wonderful place. Thank you Jeff, Pat, Jackie, Jim, Jan, Amy, Nat, Hincey, Ric, Bill and Tommy. We all worked too much. The entire book is an example of people doing too much. That's the only way to live. And, thank you Joanne. Joanne who worked harder than anyone, Joanne who made the office unique and happy.

So, everybody, our book is on the way. It will rest, as does everyone, on the lap of people's opinion and we will hope for sweet sleep and good opinion at least some of the time.
